

The Long Rest

Tuesday, 25 August 2026 · plot and bookkeeping: what changed, what is canon, rulings, threads, quotes

The GM's record of the session, spoiler-tolerant: the companion to the player recap. Nothing here was shown to the players.

⚠ The big one: they picked the Widow Fen

The soft-steer away from the hag coven did not hold — legend ran hot on the fen being "closest" and the table's dragon-caution did the rest. The coven meets them at ONE shard, not two-going-on-three. Before Monday: decide what the hags know/sell at this stage, and which dream tiers must NOT be spoiled (plot doc's truth-selling window was tuned for later). The party is also primed for Shar-flavored "priestesses and darkness spells" — they said "temple of Shar" aloud while deliberating; they know hags are the actual occupants of the fen from the rumor mill, but their mental model of hag strength is vague ("how strong is the hag?").

Threads opened or advanced

- Dream response: Jetten held out the Graveheart in the shared dream; her eyes widened, dream cut. The dryad has now SEEN the shard in a dream. Decide what changes next homecoming night (they're on the road now — road nights are dreamless per the ledger).
- "Corin" is now a live name at the table. Nobody followed up yet.
- Jetten's moonstone necklace glowed green in the dream — improvised callback, second occurrence (also in session 3's trance). Still unexplained on his sheet.
- Coll off the tonic: Gren asked Coll to skip his next dose and talk. Coll sometimes skips already and dreams. This is a fuse lit — decide what Coll's un-shielded dream shows and whether the town notices him talking to the party.
- Coll's work: he's taking scouts out for the displacer carcasses and the 2 lockets left on Aldous/Edda's corpses — the watch leaving town, the trade thread made flesh. The two wight-lockets will come back to town (they were never looted).
- Selma's unease (via Pip): "not happy things are changing" re the tree greening. The party caught it and repeated it at the wrap — she's their top suspect alongside "the hippie herb Chauntea lady" framing. Insight read her as honest; the table trusts the read but not the woman.

- Ambrose's subject-change: the table flagged his breakfast-snap ("hold on — breakfast is on its way!") as possible enchantment/redirection. That was played as innkeeper hospitality; they've logged it as evidence. Be deliberate if it recurs.
- The near-slip: Tom said "heart"/"Graveheart" within Oswin's earshot TWICE; ruled misheard. The party's stated policy: reveal to no one, maybe test-reveal to ONE person later. They also floated "sabotage the apothecary" to force the town to dream — that's a live player scheme to watch for.
- Marn's Unsent Letter delivered via Selma (moved the beat from the empty-plot scene — the Coll/empty-plot ache-beat itself did NOT get played; the plot's still there for later, and Tess-in-Daggerford remains unfired).
- Kestrel lockets kept ("maybe they'll be of some use") — 25 gp each if they ever sell.
- Antitoxins: one per PC, bought expressly for the green dragon. They are consciously saving the dragon for after level 5+.

Bookkeeping owed (post-session)

- ☒ Party snapshot written (party-snapshots/2026-08-25.md) — pools full, Morgash L5.
- ☐ Level-ups to 5: Gren, Jetten, Thomas (players in downtime; verify before Monday — short runway!). Gren announced he wants 3rd-level spells; Morgash done.
- ☐ Jetten still has 0 ordinary arrows — survived a second shopping trip. Wend hook still loaded, or let him learn it at the fen.
- ☐ Morgash to attune Graveheart + Periap of Wound Closure (claimed at wrap, neither attuned yet; he has both slots). NOTE: Graveheart was made attunement-required live this session (owner call, description updated to match).
- ☐ Stash reconciliation done live: 5× Peryton Feather @10 gp (6 harvested, 1 gifted to the squirrel herald), 6× Acorn @1 sp. Splint sale netted 100 gp.
- ☐ Bestiary: Matt said at table he'd add the peryton ("I'll add it to your bestiary") — verify a Peryton/Longshadow page exists; add if not.
- ☐ Temple Ruins scene nav can go back OFF (fight done); Longshadow/peryton tokens are dead — clean the scene when convenient.
- ☐ The shard-tax recitation + "a heart has four" countdown beat from §5's clue-review row was NOT delivered this session (the letter/journal carried the load instead). The Graveheart description card was posted 3× and its "one chamber of a heart" line is in player hands — the countdown realization is still unspoken at the table. Deliverable at the fen or next town visit.

Rules & table notes

- Two concentration prompts on one Longshadow multiattack = legit (one per damage instance), checked against the raw log — not the doubling bug. Session 5's fight log was otherwise clean: Innate Sorcery advantage fired, masteries applied once, no double chips.
- Rulings made live: no-Pythagorean elevation distance (take the higher), javelin thrown at 30 ft flat is fine, thrown weapons recovered free after combat, paladin swaps ONE prepared spell per day, Web needs anchors or collapses next turn.
- "Roll your own damage" (Battle Flow checkbox) was enabled for Tom mid-fight; Matt intends to make it the world default. (The core "roll your own d20s" manual-dice setting remains per-player — walk players through Dice Configuration at next session start.)
- Bugs logged live → `todo.md` §0a: Tactical Mind card never times out; party-stash withdrawal can't split stacks (the Antitoxin "(Copy)(Copy)(Copy)" mess, cleaned up live); plus the level-up verification item.
- Player tech friction: Robert couldn't find drag-to-inventory for the plate at first; currency withdraw doesn't auto-convert pp→gp (Tom did it manually).

Quotes bank (fuller than the html cut)

- "We deaded the undead." — Gren
- "I think she is a drug dealer." — Jetten, re Selma
- "Let's see what kind of happy pills Selma has." — Gren
- "Neither of you deserves it." — Gren, after Morgash rolled 2 and Thomas rolled 3 for the plate
- "Tell all the beasts of the forest that Gren the Mighty has slain Longshadow!" — Gren
- "Our tribute, our tribute to our savior." — the squirrels
- "I am the wealthiest in acorns." — Gren
- "Most of the time I'm the one dying." — Morgash, declining to argue about who gets the Periapt
- "Maybe we just kill them all." — Gren, town theory hour
- "Is that when you have ESP?" — Pip, on being asked if he knows what a malcontent is
- Matt, meta: "This is the best automation I've seen in all the years we've been playing in Foundry." — Tom (nice one for the fridge)
